

Agnes Futa

Independent Wine Cultural Critic | Rome, Italy

Professional Profile

Agnes Futa is an Italy-based independent wine cultural critic with over 20 years of professional experience in wine tasting, editorial evaluation and institutional roles. She has served as a panel member and regional coordinator for major Italian wine guides (Bibenda; Vinibuoni d'Italia – Touring Editore), working within structured tasting protocols and final evaluation panels. Her background includes AIS professional certification, advanced masterclass training in sensory analysis, portfolio coordination for wine import projects, and leadership roles within Fondazione Italiana Sommelier. Since 2018, she has been founder and editor of Antenna-Vino, an independent platform dedicated to terroir analysis and Mediterranean wine cultures.

Tasting & Editorial Experience

- Panel Member – Bibenda Editore (Duemilavini; Guida agli Oli d'Italia)
- Regional Coordinator – Vinibuoni d'Italia (Touring Editore)
- Structured, comparative and vertical tastings across European wine regions
- Guided masterclasses and thematic tastings for professional audiences

Institutional Roles

- Fiduciario – Fondazione Italiana Sommelier FVG (2016–2019)
- Portfolio Coordination – Futa Wine S.r.l. (2014–2019)

Education & Certification

- AIS Professional Sommelier Diploma
- AIS Advanced Masterclass – Sensory Analysis

Languages

Italian | English | Polish